Saturday 14th January 2012

Who doesn't remember the excitement of an annual country show? Come along and relive your childhood and share it with your children and grandchildren at the Annual Pambula Show on Saturday 14 January 2012. This year it will be the 103rd show in 107 years.

Equestrian events start at 8.30am with six rings including showjumping. The woodchop competition starts at 11.00pm, the grand parade features vintage cars and there are art, craft, needlework, flowers, vegetables, photography, cooking and preserves exhibits in the Pavilion.

For the younger ones there is the animal nursery, Pirate Pete, face painting, alpacas, pony rides, sideshow alley and more.

A great event every year is the dog high jump - enter your dog for great prizes! Tuck into great food from the canteen, have a cold beer or enjoy a quite cuppa with scones, jam & cream in the Pavilion tea room, or try some Dutch pancakes, hot potatoes or the traditional fare in sideshow alley.

For those who like fast and furious entertainment motocross time trials featuring a big line-up of small bikes through to seniors start mid afternoon.

And in the evening we will be having live music.
